On account of the peculiar nature of conciliation work, it is not possible to estimate just how many men will be employed as commissioners of conciliation during the next fiscal year; in other words, the number of men to be employed depends largely upon the number of labor disputes that arise from time to time. The unrest in the ranks of labor brought about by the great increase in the cost of living has resulted in a large number of labor disputes, and it is thought that the foregoing estimate will be no more than adequate to provide for the needs of the service during the forthcoming year.

FOREST SERVICE.
NOTE.—A revised statutory roll is submitted for the Forest Service which contemplates a readjustment of the salaries of all administrative and clerical positions and the elimination of the specified positions of forest supervisor, deputy forest supervisor, and forest ranger. These latter employees are provided for in a lump-fund item at the end of the proposed statutory roll. This item represents a slightly modified statutory roll which is believed to be better adapted to the personnel engaged on responsible administrative and technical work, but which, at the same time, limits the number of persons that may be employed. The work of the Forest Service is seriously retarded through the existence of many low-salaried clerical positions on the statutory roll. Only through a complete readjustment of the roll whereby a higher average salary is provided for each class of employees can the situation be remedied. Inability to keep lower-paid statutory positions filled, the burden of constantly training new employees, and the lack of interest of older employees who see no hope of advancement are factors which seriously jeopardize the effective discharge of the work of the service.
